

The Adventures of Team Australia

Episode 2: Dutton Rising

Episode 2 of The Adventures of Team Australia is a free roleplaying game (RPG) that sees Tony, Peter, and the gang in the fight of their lives as they seek to overturn the rule of Turnbull's moderates and retake control of the party.

Starring many of our favourite political figures, this episode covers the ascension of Peter Dutton and the conservative right, as they face off against the ABC, the Gays, the PC Brigade, Section 44, Russian Trolls, Mad Fucking Witches, and those ever-elusive socialists! Set in Sydney, players are able to visit many iconic landmarks, such as Bondi Beach, Oxford Street, Castle Wentworth, Kirribilli House, and Mike Baird's Pleasure Paradise.

The game is available as a free download for Windows, at www.theadventuresofteamaustralia.com.au, with releases for MacOS, Linux, iOS and Android planned in coming weeks. A Steam edition is also available, complete with achievements, cloud saving, and automatic updates.

The Adventures of Team Australia is developed by Ed Smith, a Vancouver-based student, musician and writer, who can be reached at ehsmith89@gmail.com. Episode 3 is in its early stages, and will likely cover Prime Minister Morrison's surprise takeover, needles in strawberries, au pairs, the banking royal commission, the drought, a final solution to The Fraser Anning Question, as well as whatever other ridiculous nonsense happens over the next few months.
